

See discussions, stats, and author profiles for this publication at: <https://www.researchgate.net/publication/324730612>

Statement of participation ramu Bandameedi

Technical Report · April 2018

CITATIONS

0

READS

49

1 author:

Bandameedi Ramu
PharmaZell vizag

55 PUBLICATIONS 133 CITATIONS

SEE PROFILE

Some of the authors of this publication are also working on these related projects:

formulation of multiparticulated drug delivery systems of antiviral drugs View project

Statement of participation

ramu Bandameedi

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Public health and mental health promotion

This 6-hour free course explored public health from a mental health perspective, and the achievement of positive mental health and quality of life.

Issue date: 24 April 2018

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification. This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner. Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:
<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/health-sports-psychology/health/public-health/public-health-and-mental-health-promotion/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: KYN293_1

Public health and mental health promotion

<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/health-sports-psychology/health/public-health/public-health-and-mental-health-promotion/content-section-0>

Course summary

In this free course, Public health and mental health promotion, you will examine public health from a mental health perspective, beginning with an exploration of the relationship between public health and mental health. Mental health promotion is concerned with achieving positive mental health and quality of life.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of developments, strategies and the role of nurses in the delivery of public health policies
- demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of a range of mental health models and approaches to inform practice
- demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of partnership working with service users, carers and their families across a range of care models and philosophies used within mental health.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Public health

Section 2

Perceptions

Section 3

Conclusion